Come learn everything you need to begin teaching a 15-week session of Dance With Me for toddlers and parents:

- Learn repertoire and activities that delight and engage both parents and children
- Discuss the nature of the toddler – including his social, emotional, physical, and cognitive development.
- Gain a new understanding of how children learn music and discover what to look for as they progress on the pathway to music literacy.
- Explore effective ways to help parents play musically with their children.
- Acquire tips for effective parent education.
- Observe a live demonstration class of parents and toddlers taught by a master teacher.
- Practice teach with your peers in a supportive environment.

Special Program Planning Session: Throughout the workshop, special attention will be given to helping participants launch a successful studio. Consideration of where to establish a studio, price structuring, a marketing plan, and recruiting families are among the topics to be discussed.

Come for 10 hours and walk away with everything you need to start your very own early-childhood music studio – from songs and activities to a business plan!

If you've ever thought about teaching early-childhood music, this is your chance to begin. Come find out what others already know about Musikgarten

Our workshop leader was a delight - very knowledgeable and willing to help, answer questions and share her gift for teaching. Her presentations made everything fall into place!

The demonstration classes were an AWESOME part of the workshop! I wish all workshops had this feature.

The two Musikgarten workshops I've taken have been very well-done, have more relevant and usable materials, and are a great value, as far as the cost.

Workshop participants are invited to attend a future 17-hour Family Music Workshop for Babies and Toddlers Workshop for a discounted fee.

Bonus Offer: 40% Discount on a start-up kit which includes a teacher guide, instruments and family supplies
